10th Annual Proteins & Antibodies Congress 2017

Description

10th Annual Proteins & Antibodies Congress 2017

Oxford Global are proud to present the highly anticipated 10th Annual Proteins & Antibodies Congress, taking place on 24 – 25 April 2017, London, UK. This unique conference will feature presentations covering protein and antibody development, engineering & design.

The event features two featured Biotherapeutics sessions, focusing on key updates and exciting case studies from protein and antibody biotherapeutics.

The proteins and antibodies market is experiencing a continuous growth. This expansion is attributed to novel protein and antibody engineering strategies, improvements in antibody drug conjugates as well as utilising proteins and antibodies for therapeutics purposes.
